- The belief that it may be difficult for a resident or professor to disclose.

Reducing Literary Theft

In order to reduce the cases of literary/intellectual theft, the student must be convinced of the following three basics:

- It is your responsibility to inform the reader / professor that your work is not 100% of your own effort.
- Discreet use of any reference is considered a lie, and lying is not acceptable by all standards and in all societies for whatever reason.
- Delivering the work of others as your own effort is considered theft, or to be exact, intellectual theft.

A student who studies some courses in another university or college or in a branch of the university to which he belongs.

First: A student from the college who wishes to study as a visitor at another university or college:

1. The student must have an academic record (cumulative grade point average) for at least one semester at the university before applying for studying as a visiting student.
2. The student should have been studying in a recognized university or college.
3. The student should bring a description of the courses to be studied from the other university to be equated by the college and after determining the equivalent materials to be submitted by an official letter to the Deanship of Admission and Registration to address the university where he would like to study as a visiting student.
4. The course to be studied by the student outside the university should be equalized in the vocabulary and the number of units of study.
5. The maximum number of credits that can be calculated from outside the university for a visiting student is (20%) of the total graduation units from Qassim University.
6. Course rates that are equivalent to a visiting student at another university are not counted within their cumulative GPA, and the courses are recorded in their academic record.
7. The student must provide the Deanship of Admission and Registration with the results obtained within a week of the start of study in the first semester following the period of study as a visitor.
8. The maximum number of semesters a student is allowed to study as a visitor are two semesters.

18. Grades and Graduation

The grades obtained by the student in each course shall be calculated on the basis that the grading weight is (5) points as follows:

Percentage	Grade	Letter Grade	Point Grade from (5)
100 - 95	High Excellent	+A	5.0
94 - 90	Excellent	A	4.75
89 - 85	High Very Good	+B	4.5

69 - 65	High Pass	+D	2.5
64 - 60	pass	e	2.0
Less than 60	Fail	f	1.0

• The overall grade point average when a student graduates based on his/her GPA is as follows:

1. (Excellent): If the GPA is not less than 4.50 out of 5.
2. (Very Good): If the GPA of 3.75 to less than 4.50 out of 5.
3. (Good): If the GPA is from 2.75 to less than 3.75 from 5.
4. (Acceptable): If the grade point average is from 2.00 to less than 2.75 from 5.

• First class honors are awarded to students with a cumulative GPA of (4.75) to (5.00) out of (5.00) upon graduation. The second class honors are awarded to a student who has a cumulative GPA of 4.25 to less than 4.75 out of 5.00 upon graduation. For the first or second honors, the following conditions are required:

- a. The student should not have failed any course he studied at the university or at another university.
- b. The student must have completed the graduation requirements within a maximum period of twelve semesters.
- c. The student must have studied at least 60% of the graduation requirements.

• The student graduates after successfully completing the graduation requirements according to the study plan. GPA should not be less than the acceptable (GPA) which is 2.

How to calculate the GPA

Semester Rate and the Accumulated Rate

Semester Rate: The sum of the points earned by the student in the semester is divided by the total number of credit hours for all courses taught in the semester

Points: Number of hours recorded x Weight of the estimate

Accumulated Rate: It is divided by the total number of points earned by the student in all the courses studied since his enrollment at the university by the total credit hours for those courses. Credit Hours (Graduation Hours) The total number of credit hours for the courses passed

Graduation Requirements in Study Plans

First: The number of units required for each discipline must be within the following schedule (excluding the preparatory program):

Table (3): The number of units required for each major in the university

College	Number of Levels	No. of Credit Hours per Level	Total Number of Graduation Credit Hours
4-year college	8	16-18	128-144
5-year college	10	16-20	160-200
5-year (annual system) college	5 years	32-40 per year	160-200

Second: Distribution of the required units of study for each discipline according to the percentages specified as follows:

1. University and College Requirements 30-50%.
2. Compulsory and Elective Department Requirements (45-65%).
3. Free hours of 3- 5%.

Third: University Requirements:

It is a set of obligatory set of courses for all university students. The university requirements are divided into three sections:

Section I: Courses that have specific names and symbols and must be an essential part of each study plan are the following courses:

- a. Islamic Culture: 101 ladders, 102 ladders, 103 ladders and 104 ladders (2 hours per subject). The disciplines of the College of Sharia and Islamic Studies and the disciplines of Islamic Studies in other faculties of the University may replace these courses alternative courses, taking into account the number of credits for each alternative course.
- b. Arabic Language: 101 Arabs (for language skills) and 103 Arabs (Arabic Liberation) (2 hours per subject). The specialization of Arabic language may be replaced by these two alternative courses, taking into account the number of units of study for each alternative course.

This brings the total number of obligatory studying units of university requirements for all students to 12 units.

Section II: Requirements established in the preparatory year and accordingly are not included in the plans of colleges that require students to pass the preparatory year.

These courses are English language courses, computer skills, thinking skills and learning styles. Colleges that do not require a preparatory year must specify in their study plans the need for specialization in computer skills and English language subjects. The course of thinking skills and learning methods (101 2 - نفس hours) must be a separate subject within the requirements of the college, and the faculty to teach and provide the appropriate faculty member to teach.

Section III: Communication Skills Course (the plans committee determines the number and symbol) must be within the requirements of each college and each faculty develop its vocabulary commensurate with its specializations. The College may distribute the vocabulary of this course and apply its objectives in the decisions of the plan, whether from the requirements of the college or specialization.

	Intra-Departmental	Compulsory	36-40%
		Optional	4-10%

Note: In applying this framework, it should be taken into account in the department part the faculties that adopt an educational system based on the integration of departments with one another and that does not depend on the department as an independent educational entity.

Table (6): Illustrative example of a study plan with a total of 136 units

Requisites			No. of Credit	Percentage (%)
			Hours
QU			12	8.82%
College Requirements	Compulsory		42	30.88%

		Optional	6	4.41%
Elective Courses			6	4.41%
Total			136	100%

Fourth: Numbering and Coding the Courses

The numbering and coding of the courses follows the following rules:

- 1.Course Code: is a significant set of characters that symbolize the scientific section that offers the course. It ranges between 2 and 3 letters with emphasis on the standardization of coding for similar scientific departments in all faculties of the university compatibility and compatibility with the methods of coding universally recognized. See Table 7 showing some symbols for different sections of the university.

Table (7): Example of coding courses in some sections

Department	Code
	In Arabic	In English
Islamic Culture	سلم	IC
Arabic Language and Literature	عرب	ARAB
Psychiatry	نفس	Psych
Civil Engineering	همد	CE
Veterinary Medicine	طبي	BVM

Note: Each section is given a code of at least two characters and a maximum of four characters (only numbers are not allowed)

2. Course Number: This refers to the course sequence within the courses of a department and consists of three numbers:

Course Code	First digit	Second digit	Third digit
a. Hundreds column: denotes the academic year in which the course is taught as follows:
First: Diploma and Bachelor:
- Preparatory Year Courses	0
- First year	1
- Second year	2
- Third Year	3
- Fourth year and beyond	4
Second: Masters stage	5
Third: PhD stage	6
b. Scores box: denotes the field (for the exact specialization) within the section (See the example shown in Table 8).

Table (8) Example of interpreting the numbers of dozens in the decisions of the Department of Animal Production and Breeding, College of Agriculture and Veterinary Medicine

Second Digit	Precise Specialty
1	General
2	Heredity and Animal Breeding
3	Heredity and Poultry Breeding
4	Animal Feeding
5	Poultry Feeding
6	Animal Physiology
7	Poultry Physiology
8	Animal Care and Production
9	Poultry Care and Production

Ones: denotes the course sequence in an specialty

See illustration example

For Fiqh 423 it is written as follows:

The course “Fiqh” indicates that the course is subtracted from the Department of Fiqh.

No. (4) indicates that the course is taught in the fourth year.

No. (2) indicates that the course continued to specialize in financial transactions in the Fiqh section.

No. (3) indicates that the decision is the third sequence within the decisions of financial transactions.

Fifth: Previous Requirements for Courses:

The above requirements are an important element in the construction of the study plan. The preceding requirement is a key to understanding the course that follows and without it there is a flaw in the knowledge structure.

The prerequisite in the study plans takes one of the following forms:

1. Prerequisite requires success

This means that a course of the plan depends cognitively and skillfully on a prerequisite and must be successful in the student before registering the course conditioned on a previous requirement.

2. A requirement that does not require success

This course is helpful in understanding the next course and does not require success in registering for another course.

3. Synchronous requirement

The simultaneous requirement usually includes important subjects for the simultaneous course without having to study it in a previous chapter.

Notes:

1. Requirements shall be within the limits of cognitive necessity to ensure flexibility in recording decisions.
2. The requirement and its type should be mentioned as in Tables 9 to 12.

Graduation Hours

Total Graduation Hours of Qassim University Colleges:

Examples of the graduation hours of some programs are given in the following table (Table 9). The information for all programs can be obtained from Qassim University website or directly from the Student Affairs Unit in each college or from the Deanship of Admission and Registration office.

Student Services

Services of Student Affairs Deanship

Guidance and Counseling Services

Guidance and counseling is an important process that a university student needs in all stages of his university studies. The undergraduate level is quite different from what a student is used to in general education. Quality comes at the forefront of the vital strategic concerns that face us in our lives in general, and in the areas of specific quality in particular, due to the success of scientific and technical progress and increasing competition between the productive and service institutions. The concept of quality goes beyond the traditional meaning of the quality of a product or service to include the quality of an organization or organization in order to improve and develop processes and performance, reduce costs, control time, achieve customer desires and market requirements and work team spirit and strengthen belonging and these can all be summarized in two key points:

- a. Compliance with specifications
- b. Recent developments in science and various academic fields have led to an increasing interest in academic quality in recent times. In order to reach graduates to internationally recognized standards so that they are able to compete locally, regionally and globally, quality assurance and academic accreditation have become one of the most important topics of concern to the Ministry of Higher Education. The Royal Decree No. (108) dated 14/02/1440 was issued to amend the name of the Education Evaluation Authority to be the Education and Training Evaluation Authority and the recommendation of the General Committee of the Council of Ministers No. 837 dated 08/02/1440 approved the organization of the Education Evaluation Authority. The Council of Ministers issued Decision No. (94) dated 7/2/1438 AH approving the organizational arrangements of the Education Evaluation Authority, which include that the authority is the competent body in the Kingdom to evaluate and accredit in education and training to raise their quality, adequacy and contribution. In x The National Center for Academic Accreditation and Assessment is one of the centers supervised by the Commission, an extension of what was formerly known as the National Commission for Academic Accreditation and Assessment, so that it enjoys the moral character and administrative and financial independence and is the authority responsible for academic accreditation and quality assurance in educational institutions. Secondary - governmental and private. In order to improve the quality of private and public higher education, ensure clarity and transparency, and provide a standardized standards of academic performance. The center's duties include setting rules, criteria and conditions for academic evaluation and accreditation, and formulating the regulations that guarantee their application in higher education institutions.

Program Accreditation Criteria

In 2018, the National Center for Academic Assessment and Accreditation (NACAA) developed the criteria for baccalaureate accreditation to become six standards instead of the eleven old standards, the details of which are as follows:

Criterion 1: Mission and Objectives

The mission of the program should be consistent with the institution's mission, and the mission of the program should be applied to the objectives and requirements of the program in question.

The consistency of the program's mission with the institution's mission does not mean that it should cover all the axes in the university's mission. There must also be a mechanism to develop and develop the message.

Criterion 2: Program management and quality assurance

Program leadership is the responsibility of the head of the department, and academic leadership is the responsibility of the head of the department and the quality coordinator (program manager for quality). Program management must demonstrate effective leadership, and must reflect an appropriate balance between responsibility to senior management, the institution providing the program, and the flexibility to meet the specific requirements of the program in question. Stakeholders (such as students, professionals, employers, and faculty) should be involved in planning procedures, in setting goals and objectives and reviewing and responding to results achieved.

If there are separate student departments, the resources should be identical to the students' departments, and there should be an effective communication mechanism between the two bodies. As a whole and continuously make adjustments quickly in response to feedback and according to developments in the external environment affecting the academic program.

The second criterion includes the following sub-criteria:

1-2 Program Management

2-2 Program Quality Assurance

Criterion 3: teaching and learning

The learning outcomes of the program are formulated to indicate the student's knowledge, information, abilities, skills and values upon graduation, and the learning outcomes of the course are formulated to show the knowledge, information, abilities, skills and values gained by the end of the course.

Students' learning outcomes should be clearly defined and in line with the Saudi Qualifications Framework (formerly the National Qualifications Framework) and the requirements of work or professional practice. The quality of education and the effectiveness of programs are assessed by assessing student performance, surveying graduates and employers, and using feedback from those parties as a basis for future development plans.

If the program has a male and female section, the quality standards and learning resources should be the same, and calendars should include separate data for each department. Provide a description of the quality assurance response procedures used to verify that the regulatory framework and arrangements for verifying that teaching and learning are working properly (for example, if measures are taken to verify student achievement levels against appropriate external references, state what were the results of these actions?

The teaching and learning standard includes the following sub-criteria:

1-3 Design of graduate attributes and learning outcomes

Procedures to ensure that the intended learning outcomes of students are consistent with the Saudi Qualifications Framework (formerly the National Qualifications Framework), and the requirements for career or vocational work as defined by the experts' recommendations or the requirements of the relevant professional bodies or accreditation bodies, include:

- Careful review of the National Qualifications Framework.
- Periodic survey of the knowledge, skills, abilities and values needed by the labor market.
- Quoting from the output determined by some accreditation bodies.

2-3 Curriculum

Components of the curriculum of university requirements and college requirements and program requirements and graduation project and field training / year of excellence with mandatory and optional identification.

3-3 Quality of teaching and evaluation of students

This sub-criterion includes information on teaching strategy plans for the development of targeted learning outcomes of the program, assessment of teaching quality, procedures for the preparation of course reports and program report, and how to utilize them. Through student feedback (or through other mechanisms).

It also includes teaching aids for students such as office hours, peer education and courses.

The conclusions reached on the quality of the program as a result of the use of program evaluation and review procedures are presented and, where appropriate, reference to information on indicators and survey results should be noted.

Students are also evaluated and their outputs are evaluated by means of direct and indirect measurement.

Criterion 4: Students

Admission procedures should be effective, fair and responsive to the needs of students enrolling in the academic program. Dispute resolution and appeals mechanisms are clearly set out and published, fairly administered, and career guidance should be provided to students regarding jobs related to the areas of study that the program deals with.

Much of the responsibility for achieving this standard lies with the institution's management rather than program management, while the program is responsible for evaluating the quality of this standard.

Criterion 5: Teaching Staff

Teaching staff should be optimally qualified and have the appropriate expertise to carry out the teaching responsibilities assigned to them, to use appropriate teaching strategies for different types of learning outcomes, and to participate in activities to improve the effectiveness of education.

The qualifications and experience of staff members associated with program requirements should be indicated. Highlighting the qualifications and experience of staff members should be highlighted, and a report should be presented with a list of strengths, recommendations for improvement and implementation priorities.

Criterion 6: Learning Resources, Facilities and Equipment

Educational resource materials and associated services should be sufficient to meet the program requirements and courses offered and accessible to students when needed. Information on academic program requirements should be provided by faculty in time to provide the necessary resources. Teachers and students in evaluating the resources provided, and the requirements for references and data sources on the Internet and computer rooms and assistance in the use of these equipment will vary depending on the nature of the academic program and methodology of teaching.

Facilities should be appropriate, create an environment for the smooth functioning of the educational process and facilitate program activities.

Procedures for securing the necessary learning resources for the program should be clarified, including opportunities for staff or program administrators to provide the necessary resources, as well as information on the services provided and when they are available, the extent to which learning resources are equally available between the two parts of the student population, etc.

Explain the adequacy of facilities and facilities (classrooms, laboratories, study places, international network equipment, libraries, etc.) available for program activities.

Learning Outcomes

A group of knowledge, skills and competencies should be provided to the graduate and this is done through the inclusion of these knowledge, skills and competencies in the curriculum to be reviewed and evaluated periodically to ensure good results to serve the graduate in the labor market, and the importance of the student to identify these outputs in the educational process, The following is a simple explanation of these outcomes:

1. Knowledge: Ability to understand and present specific facts, concepts, theories and methods.
2. Cognitive skills Applying the foundations and theories in thinking and creative solution to problems, assigned duties and unexpected new topics. In general it is the ability to apply an understanding of knowledge to solve problems in creative ways and deal with critical situations. Skills and Personal Responsibility: Includes leadership, teamwork, ethical behavior, and learning autonomy. Communication skills include the ability to communicate effectively when speaking or editing and using information resources and communication technology. Psychomotor skills in scientific fields that require it such as surgery, drawing, music and acting.

3. Competencies: means the proven ability to use knowledge, skills and personal, social and / or methodological abilities, in work or study situations and in professional and personal development. Briefly it means “the capacity to transfer knowledge into practice”.

Qassim University experience in the field of quality assurance

In cooperation with the National Commission for Academic Accreditation and Assessment (currently the Education and Training Evaluation Commission), Qassim University has carried out several phases of localization of quality in order to reach world-class outputs for educational, research and community service.

The most prominent of these stages are:

First: the first stage of self-evaluation (1426 AH)

Through this study, Qassim University sought to assess the current and existing situation in the university to determine its position and the extent to which it meets quality standards at the institutional and programmatic level. The study concluded with a number of conclusions and recommendations that highlighted the strengths of the university and seek to maintain and strengthen them, and weaknesses and work to avoid them.

Second: the development study project (1427-1429 AH)

The development study project, which I put forward with the National Commission for Academic Accreditation and Assessment (currently Education and Training Evaluation Authority) and participated by three Saudi universities, including Qassim University, is the first work that serves the localization of quality in the participating universities and colleges, in addition to other activities that accompanied this project. Training, workshops and more.

Preparation for the implementation of the project started in 1427 AH and the project continued until 1429 AH. The project was a practical training (simulation) on how to prepare and adjust (restructuring) each of the educational, research and administrative activities to meet the requirements of academic accreditation with high standards.

The project was technically divided into two phases:

First Phase: Institutional Evaluation of the University

This section covers all aspects directly related to university performance. In particular, the study focused on the 11 axes of institutional quality formulated by the National Center for Accreditation and Academic Assessment.

Second Phase: Programmatic Evaluation

This section includes an evaluation study of seven academic programs distributed among seven colleges of the university, namely: College of Medicine, Department of Electrical Engineering from the College of Engineering, Department of Accounting from the College of Economics and Management, Department of Veterinary Medicine from the College of Agriculture and Veterinary Medicine, Department of English from the College of Arabic Language and Social Studies, Department of Computer Science from the College of Computer, Department of Mathematics from the College of Science.

Project Outcomes

Several teams of quality and academic accreditation specialists from the Kingdom reviewed the results of the project and visited the university and the departments participating in the study. These teams issued important reports at the institutional and programmatic levels and were reviewed in the concerned departments.

The most important results of the study are as follows:

- Preparing the strategic plan of the university
- Establishing the University Vice Presidency for Development, Planning and Quality
- Establishing the Deanship of Quality Assurance and Accreditation
- Establishing the Deanship of Information Technology
- Establishing the Deanship of faculty and staff affairs
- Establishment of the University Advisory Council

Third: The official institutional academic accreditation project

After the completion of the university development study at the institutional and programmatic level and the visit of the external judges to the university and writing their reports, which included many recommendations, which the university considered obligatory in its implementation in order to continue improvement in the development and development of the university and raise the university's readiness to obtain institutional academic accreditation, On 15/7/1430 AH the formation of the committees of the project of academic accreditation to work on the preparation of an executive plan for the recommendations of the external auditors and verify its implementation and continuing the preparation for academic accreditation officially by the National Evaluation and Accreditation (Commission assessment of education and training now).

Project Achievements

- Preparation of the executive plan for the recommendations of the external auditors and approval of the Higher Committee for Academic Accreditation and start implementation.
- Determine the purpose and objectives of the institutional academic accreditation project and prepare the executive plan for the project and the timetable required for its implementation.
- Prepare the media plan for the project and the timetable for its implementation.
- Identify the different sources of information needed to prepare a self-study report for the project.
- Finalization of the quality assurance system for academic programs.
- Obtaining institutional accreditation for seven years (from May 2013 to April 2020)

For employers:

- Accredited Universities and Majors Give local and international employers a good idea of the level of skills and behaviors of graduates (potential employees) before any actual hiring is done.
- Accreditation provides guarantees to employers that program graduates are theoretically and practically able to enter the labor market.
- For businessmen:
 - Recognition by international accreditation bodies opens borders and facilitates the free movement of qualified and skilled competencies between different countries.
 - Academic accreditation provides an appropriate assurance to businessmen that accredited university graduates have the minimum knowledge and skills necessary to make a business successful.

For the country:

- Local and international academic accreditation, based on stringent quality standards, helps to build a stereotype of the country as an attraction for students seeking higher education and promotes educational tourism.

Academic Schedule arrangements

First: Set the time table:

When registering your schedule, consider the following:

- The chosen branch should be located in your college, not far from its headquarters.
- B - not to exceed the number of hours recorded if your average is low (2); because the burden of materials will be large on you, and may lead to your failure, so we advise you to raise your average to be between 12-16 hours.
- If you are switching from section to section, you can equate the materials that are compatible with your plan in content and hours.
- During deletion and addition, try to make a balanced schedule in the spaces, so that you do not have the first and last lecture, which may make you lazy in the audience, be sure to put another article in this space, and avoid absences during deletion and addition so as not to be deprived.

- e. If you have finished deleting and adding through the site, be sure to print the table to save your rights.
- f. We advise you to put a special file to put a picture of any record or schedule you take at the university, you may need in a matter.
- g. If you register a course in one of the divisions, you are not entitled to study in another class at another professor.
- h. Know that each department has university requirements, it is not permissible to register a subject that has a prerequisite. For example: about 2, before: about 1.

Second: Solving the problems of the study schedule

We would like to remind you that solving the problem starts first from your department, then the students' affairs at the college, then the Deanship of the College represented by the College Agency for Educational Affairs, and not to exceed any of those stages, and we like to draw your attention to the following:

1. Filling in the marks:

If you see that one of your subjects has not been filled, you should first review the professor, then the head of the department you refer to. Students to be sent by regular way.

2. Your absence from lectures:

If you get an emergency circumstance and lead you to miss a lecture, provide an excuse to the professor quickly, so as not to be deprived. We always advise you to record every absence you get so as not to reach the upper limit and then the professor deprives you from entering the final test.

3. Your absence from the final exams:

If you are a half-hour late, the university system prevents you from taking the exam. If you miss the test, an excuse must be given within a week of your absence, taking into account the preceding important instructions.

4. Your name is not in the professor list:

In this case you should check the student affairs. Is the course registered for you? If you are not registered, your presence as non-existent.

5. Poor academic level:

Be aware that any first level is the true core of the cumulative GPA, and that a failure in it will be a load on you, weakening your future raising rate.

6. Summer Semester:

When you register in the summer semester make sure your schedule and what it contains so as not to issue you a schedule and then be damaged, and register, delete and add yourself and do not let others control your academic fate.

7. Follow-up of the study record:

Many students do not know their academic record, and therefore do not know what is left of him and what has exceeded his plan, so we recommend you to know through your department you refer to, or through the university's website through the member services portal.
